About Queenstown

Surrounded by majestic mountains and nestled on the shores of crystal clear Lake Wakatipu, Queenstown is best known for its breathtaking scenery, diverse range of experiences, relaxed vibe and friendly people.

Queenstown Bay

With world class hiking and biking trails, international standard golf courses, award-winning wineries and innovative adventure activities, not to mention over 150 restaurants, cafés and bars, our visitors are spoiled for choice and always met with a warm welcome.

What adds to Queenstown's attraction is that it's easily accessible by direct East Coast Australia flights and internal direct flights from main New Zealand airports. Once here, this cosmopolitan resort has a wide range of accommodation styles with international hotel brands, B&Bs, backpackers, exclusive luxury lodges, motels and apartment complexes. Some of the region's most famous attractions like the picturesque historic goldmining village of Arrowtown, Glenorchy's epic Lord of the Rings scenery and Milford and Doubtful Sounds are all within an easy drive or day trip.

The seasons here are distinct and each brings a different form of fun. From June to September the colder seasons transform the region, with snow covered mountains and crisp blue-sky days, providing some of New Zealand's best skiing and snow adventures. Spring brings longer days and bright colours and there's still plenty of snow on the mountains. Summer's warm weather and long evenings are perfect for alfresco dining, lakeside BBQs and getting outdoors. Autumn visitors are treated to spectacular bursts of red and gold blanketing the landscape, and a relaxed pace to indulge in walking, biking and winery visits during the harvest.

Queenstown's vibrant town centre is compact, making walking a convenient and enjoyable way to get around.

Historic Queenstown

Origins of Queenstown

The pioneering spirit of early settlers has shaped the Southern Lakes region. People have always been drawn here, starting with early Māori who came in search of pounamu (native greenstone) and European settlers who followed with sights set on fertile grazing land. They discovered much more when gold lit up the region's waterways - goldrush fever hit in the 1860s and was the start of an ongoing international fascination with the Southern Lakes.

Today more than three million visitors a year are drawn to the Queenstown region. The vibrant energy, majestic alpine scenery and huge range of options for activities and adventure, combined with the warm welcome from locals, sets the stage for a world class visitor experience. Queenstown has experienced significant growth over the past decade - more than 25,000 people now live in the wider district.

Tourism remains the backbone of the local economy although general business services, wine, education, retail and construction industries also flourish.

Legendary

Māori legend tells a beautiful tale of the creation of Queenstown's Lake Wakatipu - formed by Matau, an evil giant who kidnapped the beautiful daughter of a Māori chief named Hā-ki-te-kura.

Hā-ki-te-kura's rescuer Matakauri destroyed Matau by fire, burning him while he lay sleeping. Water from the rivers and melting snow from the mountains filled the giant hole he left in the ground. This formed the shape of Lake Wakatipu as we know it today. Matau's head rested in Glenorchy at the north of the lake, and his feet south in Kingston. Queenstown sits at Matau's knee. Legend has it Matau's heart still beats today, explaining the 'tidal' rise and fall of Lake Wakatipu.

The Māori people first inhabited the area in search of food, including the flightless Moa. They also looked for the coveted pounamu (greenstone), deemed 'taonga' (treasure). In the absence of any local metals, pounamu was used to craft tools, weapons and jewellery.

Milford Mythology

According to Māori legend, Piopiotahi (Milford Sound) was formed not by rivers of ice, but by Tu-te-raki-whanoa, an atua (godly figure) who was given the task of shaping the Fiordland coast. Singing a powerful karakia (chant), he began attacking the towering rock walls with his toki (adze) called Te Hamo.

As he moved further north, Tu-te-raki-whanoa perfected his work, creating long winding inlets to provide refuge from the restless, often stormy open seas. Piopiotahi is said to be his finest sculpture.

Surrounding regions Arrowtown

Only 20 minutes from Queenstown, Arrowtown is central to some of the region's best walking and cycling tracks, golf courses, ski fields, art galleries and wineries.

There's always something to discover during a stroll along the river or a hike in hills rich in history. The town also offers vibrant retail stores brimming with unique products and delicious meals crafted from fresh local produce.

Arrowtown's outstanding coffee culture is an attraction in itself with friendly cafés, alongside award-winning restaurants, traditional pubs and boutique bars. Visit the Lakes District Museum for information and maps on Arrowtown's attractions and explore stories and exhibits from the early Māori, through the early pioneering days, to the exciting mining era of the late 1800s. Shopping in the village is a pleasure with galleries featuring fine arts and crafts while a boutique cinema specialises in art house, classic movies and new releases. Arrowtown is surrounded by three superb golf courses; Millbrook Resort, The Hills and the Arrowtown Golf Club. Some of Central Otago's best wineries are minutes away and snow enthusiasts will enjoy Arrowtown's close proximity to four ski fields.

The cry of 'gold' in 1862 enticed miners to the Arrow River, one of the world's richest sources of alluvial gold. During the gold rush the population reached 7,000. These pioneers built small stone and wood cottages, established churches, and planted beautiful trees. Through careful preservation the legacy of the early settlers is retained in a fascinating, picturesque town where the past and present seamlessly blend. Arrowtown is ideal for a day visit, or to fully enjoy its unique charm stay at one of the many accommodation options just minutes from the town centre.

Arrowtown has a wide range of historic and recreational trails for all fitness levels including the Arrow River Trail, the historic Chinese Village, Macetown walking track and the Queenstown Trail.

Surrounding regions Glenorchy

Bordered by Mount Aspiring National Park, a New Zealand World Heritage Area, Glenorchy is the gateway to some of New Zealand's best scenery, the Routeburn Track (an award-winning alpine walk with stunning vistas of sweeping valleys and majestic peaks) and the aptly named Paradise.

The 45km drive from Queenstown is one of the most scenic in the world along New Zealand's longest lake, with breathtaking views, hanging valleys, glaciers, islands, waterfalls and mountains. The village has great dining and accommodation options, a visitor centre, garage and general stores featuring gifts for those at home and treats for the road trip back to Queenstown.

Glenorchy's surrounding landscape is a prime location for film shoots - you'll recognise scenes from The Hobbit Trilogy, Lord of the Rings Trilogy, The Chronicles of Narnia, Wolverine, The Water Horse, and Mission: Impossible 6, as well as Tourism New Zealand promotional shoots.

This natural wilderness can be explored by foot on a multi-day hike on the Routeburn, Greenstone or Caples tracks, or one of many day or overnight treks exploring Mount Aspiring or Fiordland National Parks. Horseback rides across alluvial river flats into the aptly named Paradise are popular and so too are jet boat trips into the heart of this remote backcountry. Explore the lake by kayak or charter boat. The lake fishing is fantastic and some of the world's best high country fly fishing rivers are on hand, such as the Greenstone River.

A scenic flight enables visitors to soar over uncharted wilderness, or freefall into paradise with an exhilarating skydive. In winter fly to pristine heli-skiing slopes in the surrounding peaks for an incredible New Zealand snow sports experience.

Fiordland

Extraordinary scenic beauty has earned this region a reputation as a significant sightseeing and walking destination, and a "must see" for anyone travelling to New Zealand.

Fiordland has achieved World Heritage status and of the fourteen fiords in the Fiordland National Park, Milford Sound is the most famous and accessible. The Te Anau to Milford highway is a spectacular alpine journey and is one of the world's most scenic drives. A spectacular 2.5 hour journey from Te Anau to this majestic destination, there are many photographic stops and short walks along the way to Milford Sound, so allow plenty of time. For an underwater perspective on this unique environment visit the underwater observatory.

Doubtful Sound is remote and best known for its silent grandeur. The trip begins in Manapouri and the journey takes you across Lake Manapouri, over Wilmot Pass and into Deep Cove for a truly memorable cruise. Both fiords can be explored by day or overnight cruise or kayak trips. Remember to look out for dolphins, seals and penguins.

Fiordland National Park is home to some of the world's greatest independent or guided day or multi-day hikes including the Milford, Kepler, Routeburn, Tuatapere Hump Ridge, Greenstone and Hollyford tracks. Walks can be combined with helicopter or fixed wing flights or jet boat rides. Fiordland has world class fishing and a stunning golf course, or if relaxing is more your thing there is an awesome cinema and plenty of hotels, shops and restaurants in Te Anau.

The beautiful lakeside town of Te Anau, located on the shores of the South Island's largest lake, is the gateway to Fiordland and provides a perfect base to explore the area. Here you can enjoy a range of activities on or off the water, including the Te Anau glow worm caves.

Biking & walking

Part of Nga Haerenga – The New Zealand Cycle Trail ‘Great Rides’ network – the 122km Queenstown Trail offers cyclists and walkers the chance to explore unspoilt private land, journey over mighty suspension bridges, cross three rivers and take in views of two lakes – not to mention stunning alpine landscapes as far as the eye can see.

Biking

One hour, half-day and multi-day options are all popular and there are many established local operators offering small or large group bike hire and guides, if required, and the option of electric bikes to make cruising around that little bit easier.

Rides on the trail network range from easy to intermediate and a few advanced trails also feature. Whether walking or cycling, the trail is wonderful when experienced with family and friends and with a camera and picnic handy. Planning is easy with tools, tips and maps at www.queenstowntrail.co.nz

The Kelvin Peninsula Loop, part of the Lake Wakatipu Ride, is a short, easy grade trail with beautiful views across Lake Wakatipu towards Queenstown and the surrounding mountains; look out for the stunning collection of sculptures as you ride or walk.

Other trail highlights include the Gibbston River Trail which starts at the historic Kawarau Bridge – itself a major attraction as the home of AJ Hackett bungy. From here the journey explores wine country and as you ride towards the east you’ll be spoilt for vistas, with the Kawarau River far below on your left and to your right, the Gibbston vineyards, architectural masterpieces and iconic Central Otago landscapes. This section can be enjoyed solo or with a knowledgeable local guide amongst the vines, explaining the region as you ride. From Gibbston either head to Arrowtown via the Arrow River Bridges Ride or back to Queenstown via the Twin Rivers and Lake Wakatipu Rides. If legs are tired or other activities are on the agenda, call for a bike taxi for you and your bikes.

The Manse Road Trail enables walkers to explore the picturesque village of Arrowtown on foot and learn more about the fascinating history of its restored Chinese Village via English and Simplified Chinese interpretation panels.

By travelling across Lake Wakatipu by boat, the Queenstown Trail now links to The Around the Mountains trail and then takes cyclists onwards to Mavora Lakes through the native tussock lands of Walter Peak and Mt Nicholas Station. This new trail opens up access to some incredible backcountry terrain and can be experienced as a guided one-day or multi-day ride.

In this internationally renowned cycling destination, you’ll also find a jump park, plenty of single track and multi-day heli-biking options, plus gondola-accessed downhill mountain biking at Skyline. At Rabbit Ridge in Gibbston Valley there’s 30km of single tracks over stunning high country terrain.

The Queenstown Trail network is enjoyed as much by walkers as it is by cyclists.

Walking

There are numerous scenic short walks from downtown Queenstown worthy of exploration. These include a lakeside stroll around the Queenstown Gardens or hiking up Queenstown Hill to enjoy 360° lake and mountain views. The more challenging Ben Lomond Track is a popular day trip which rewards walkers with a bird’s eye perspective of the region.

More challenging multi-day hikes include the Hump Ridge, Greenstone and Hollyford tracks and three of New Zealand’s most famous Great Walks – the Routeburn, Milford and Kepler. Hikers can walk these tracks independently and stay at DOC huts or campsites, or choose a guided trip for more comfort and convenience. These trips offer insights into the region’s flora, fauna, geology and history as well as private lodges with comfy beds, hot showers and three-course meals.

Queenstown Trail maps and various walking maps can be found at information sites, Department of Conservation (DOC) offices and at Arrowtown’s Lakes District Museum.

Wine & dine

Quick tips

Coffee anyone?

Queenstown's coffee and tea culture flourishes in downtown and lakeside areas. Many cafés have courtyard space with magical views and in spring and summer the streets buzz with 'al fresco' diners basking in late sunsets, drinking locally-crafted and award-winning beers and wine. In winter you can cosy up with hearty fare in front of roaring fireplaces.

Wine

Queenstown is the gateway to the Central Otago region where you'll find 200 vineyards within a 90-minute drive of the town centre. Many cater to the visitor market with cellar doors for tasting and purchasing, some with on-site bistros and venues for events of all kinds. Central Otago consists of six sub-regions; Gibbston, Cromwell/Pisa/Lowburn, Bannockburn, Bendigo, Wanaka and Alexandra, all producing world class wines.

What makes the region's wine so special is the landscape. At a latitude of 45° south, Central Otago is the southernmost wine growing region in the world with unique shaly soil and climate providing excellent grape growing conditions. Local winemakers produce award-winning wines of exceptional elegance and longevity. In autumn there's much excitement as the region's thousands of tonnes of grapes are harvested. Many wineries offer tastings, tours and cellar-door sales throughout the year and some have divine winery restaurants. Private and group wine tours are a popular way to explore and sample the flavours of the region.

Dine

Queenstown is a melting pot of international cuisine, with more than 150 restaurants, bars and cafés in the area. Local food producers, chefs and winemakers are passionate about this place which has become renowned for its award-winning cuisine, paired with local wine. Locally sourced produce inspires menus with seasonal dishes like whitebait, wild pheasant, rabbit, hare, venison and lamb. The culinary options are vast; choose from contemporary fine dining, Pacific-influenced, traditional pub, winery kitchen, stylish café bar, French, designer burgers, Japanese, Indian, Chinese, Turkish, Vietnamese, Burmese, Mexican, gourmet bakeries or steak specialists.

Nightlife & shopping

Nightlife

Lively, urban and fast paced or intimate and relaxed – Queenstown's nightlife is exceptionally varied. The range of establishments would make any large city proud, yet Queenstown is compact, charming and friendly. Sophisticated wine bars sit alongside cosy pubs, pool bars, casinos, ice bars and energetic backpacker haunts. Relaxing times can be had with a cocktail, glass of wine or locally brewed beer, followed by a spot of fine dining and topped off with hot chocolate by the lake's edge.

Major events throughout the year add to the energy after the sun has set, including the Queenstown Winter Festival, Audi Quattro Winter Games, the ISPS Handa New Zealand Open and the LUMA Southern Lights Festival, all featuring evening events and parties to warm attendees.

Looking for a faster tempo? You can move from bar to bar, dance to international DJs before chilling out to dub beats at one of the town's late clubs. In summer, the party spills outside onto decks and courtyards, while in winter there's plenty of après ski fun with open fires and warm atmospheres.

Shopping

Queenstown's lively streets and cobbled laneways offer a shopping experience that's brimming with New Zealand art, fashion, craft, and souvenirs. Big brand stores share the streets with locally run boutiques and designer clothing hideaways, open all day and into the evening, every day of the year. Getting around the downtown area is best by foot – many shops are in pedestrian areas or hidden away in narrow laneways.

The Remarkables Park Town Centre and Five Mile shopping precinct near Frankton are a 15 minute bus ride or drive from central Queenstown. Here you'll find spacious developments where locals and visitors shop in large format retail stores and boutique gift and clothing outlets. Great coffee, deli food stores and artisan bakeries also feature around the region.

Suggested itinerary themes

Inspiration

Explore a World Heritage area with mountains, valleys, crystal clear waterways and green forests as far as the eye can see. A scenic flight showcases the vastness of this Southern wilderness.

Inspiration can also be drawn from a round of golf on the immaculately groomed greens of resort courses or fairways looking out to The Remarkables mountains. In Queenstown a 10-minute scenic gondola ride to Bob's Peak gives breathtaking lake and mountain views.

The 45-minute drive along Lake Wakatipu to Glenorchy is one of the world's most scenic - and distant views of glacial landforms along the way are simply awe-inspiring. Once in Glenorchy, valleys and river flats beg exploration by horseback, four wheel drive or on foot. For sheer majesty, a trip to Milford Sound is a must.

Adventure

Even the most laid-back visitors will find some form of adventure in this idyllic part of the world. Cruising across Lake Wakatipu gives a whole new perspective to the alpine town. Bungy jumping and jet boating are some classic Queenstown adventure activities, while skydiving, hang gliding, rafting and zip-lining are amazing ways to take in the view from air or water. Heli mountain biking or tramping into the wilderness requires a bit more exertion. And don't forget the awesome skiing and snowboarding to be had for every level of snow sport enthusiast during the winter season (early June to early October).

Indulgence

Holidays are about you and a little indulgence is an essential element. Queenstown is blessed with day spas where you can be pampered, pummelled, bathed and lathered with treatments designed to make you feel beautiful, special and indulged. Employ a personal trainer if you're really serious about getting toned and fabulous.

A wine trail into Gibbston is a great way to wind down. The grapes that grow here become some of the world's finest Pinot Noir and the valley is also home to several fine winery restaurants. Indulge, just a little.

Romance

Clear mountain air, beautiful vistas and starry night skies lend themselves to a romantic escape. A helicopter ride delivering you both for a picnic on a peak, or a dawn hot air balloon flight followed by a champagne breakfast, are truly lovers options.

Dinner under the stars takes on new meaning when the Milky Way's brightness is undimmed by artificial light, so take your love for a candlelit dinner on the waterfront or aboard a luxury boat on an overnight cruise deep in Fiordland's Doubtful Sound. Romance on a shoestring could mean a bottle of Pinot Noir and fish 'n' chips enjoyed on the lakeshore.

Explore the Southern Lakes region

Compact town centres with interesting shops make for fun and easy exploration of Southern Lakes towns. A short stroll from the town centre you'll find the Queenstown Gardens perched on a magnificent peninsula jutting into the lake.

Walking or cycling trails surround all Southern Lakes towns and native beech forests are within easy reach of Queenstown, Te Anau and Lake Wanaka. Fishing in crystal clear waterways is also a hugely popular pastime.

Heritage & culture

People have been drawn to this region since the first Māori visited around the 11th Century. Farmers followed, then gold miners, then holidaymakers. Each has left rich evidence of their time here, providing a fascinating journey of discovery for the modern visitor. Gold panning in the Arrow River, a walk around the humble homes of the nearby Chinese Village followed by a visit to Arrowtown's Lakes District Museum powerfully evokes the hardships faced by goldminers and their families.

A steamboat trip across Lake Wakatipu harks back to a more gracious era. A Wakatipu Arts Trail tour demonstrates the creativity of local artists, while many locally produced events (Winter Festival, Autumn Festival, Jazz Festival) celebrate the here and now.

An Hour Of Power

The 'big yellow' KJet boat races out of scenic Queenstown Bay, does a dizzying 360 degree spin and then zips across the serene waters of Lake Wakatipu, taking you on an adventure across two of the most beautiful and wildest rivers in New Zealand. Make a journey of about 43 kilometres on a trip that lasts an hour. Your first stop will be the confluence of the Kawarau River, where you can marvel at the incredible mountain peaks, impressive alpine scenery as well as the elaborate lakeside properties of Queenstown's rich and famous costing millions of dollars. After negotiating the thrilling rapids beneath the bridge, charge down the Kawarau River at speeds of up to 85 kilometres per hour, swerving to avoid little islets and embankments laden with willow trees, before racing at top speed into the Shotover River's swiftly moving braids. Catch glimpses of glittering sand cliffs as the boat negotiates translucent water that is so shallow it measures less than 10cm in depth in parts.

Driven with passion for over 60 years, KJet is the Original Queenstown Jet boat operation. It's an unforgettable experience that offers huge excitement as well as insight into local and historic knowledge about the gold-rich Shotover River, the majestic Southern Alps landscapes and native New Zealand wildlife.

Conference and Incentive

What better way to set the scene for your group than to get them off the plane and onto an awaiting Jet boat which will deliver them to their hotel. That'll wake the senses and get a bit of adrenaline into the bloodstream! We co-ordinate the airport meet & greet and coaches, as well as transfer the luggage to the hotel while guests are being whisked across Lake Wakatipu. We have the capacity to carry up to 140 guests at one time, with the flexibility to move larger groups on a rotational series, while still retaining the luxury and exclusivity of your own private Jet boats.

We're delighted to say we work with many fantastic destination management companies who are experts in creating unique team building activities. Each programme will be curated to suit your individual group. This will be in keeping with the theme and brand your company stands for. We work closely with other Queenstown activity operators to make each programme as action-packed as possible. Team-building adventures are designed to provide your group with a fun full or half day experience. We can help you combine a series of challenges, action activities and competitions.

Underwater Observatory

The Underwater Observatory in Queenstown offers fascinating and informative entertainment for all ages. Check out the underwater inhabitants of Lake Wakatipu at the Underwater Observatory Queenstown. Diving ducks, massive trout and slinky eels mix and mingle just metres from the lake shore. Informative story boards tell the Maori mythological history of the lake and the 60 year history of KJet. The fish feeding offers excitement for the fish as well as the viewers.

Don't let your guests to Queenstown miss out on The World's Most Exciting Jet Boat ride!

Shotover Jet, the only company permitted to operate within the Shotover River's spectacular canyons, has thrilled over 3 million people since 1965 and is an iconic within the Aotearoa (New Zealand) adventure travel sector. It is an essential inclusion in any itinerary to Queenstown.

Located less than 10 minutes' drive from Queenstown, Shotover Jet boats skim across as little as 10 centimetres of water, reaching speeds of up to 90 kilometres per hour during the 25-minute ride on the river. Visitors will race past rocky outcrops, skim around boulders and through the dramatic, narrow canyons as its walls tower above them.

Being part of tourism, our core values of manaakitanga (hospitality) and kaitiakitanga (stewardship) mean that we put safety, training and support at the centre of what we do.

Shotover Jet was one of Queenstown's first adventure activities and continues to be at the forefront of jet boat innovation and design. This includes updated designs and technology to ensure your guests are as safe and comfortable as possible during their ride with us.

Our drivers are highly-trained professionals who know the Big Reds and the Shotover River like the back of their hand. Each driver undergoes a minimum of 120 hours' of rigorous training (double industry standard) before carrying their first passenger. Their training doesn't end there - continuous assessment and reassessment ensures our team are at the top of their game for each and every trip.

Our boats are custom-designed for strength, power and maximum manoeuvrability. Small, powerful boats equal big thrills! We set the standard when it comes to jet boating innovation: from our individual ergonomic seating, to hand rails that pivot and flex to prevent injury and are heated for comfort. Combining the classic New Zealand invention of the jet boat with the Kiwi culture of adventure, Shotover Jet has become part of what is quintessentially New Zealand, helping to put Aotearoa (New Zealand) on the global tourism map as one of the country's must-do visitor activities.

Shotover Jet boats depart up to every 15 minutes and operate every day (river and weather conditions permitting) except for Christmas Day. Allow 1 hour 45 minutes Queenstown return including the boat ride. Our red shuttles depart The Station Info Centre up to every 15 minutes. Life jackets are mandatory and are supplied, along with optional splash coats.

Shotover Jet can manage any size group across our fleet of boats, with departure times throughout the day.

- Advise your customers to dress warmly in winter - warm clothes, jackets, sunglasses, hats and gloves
- Onsite facilities include parking, retail, café, toilets and viewing area

Minimum child height of 1 metre. In high water we reserve the right to raise the height limits.

It takes a certain kind of person to jump from an aircraft at 15000ft into thin air. It takes courage. Harnessed to an experienced Jumpmaster, you step out of that aircraft door and for some 60 seconds you plummet towards the ground at 200 km/hour - Terminal Velocity.

Expect sensory overload as your mind, body and soul fight against every natural self preservatory urge. The impact on your life that the act you are now contemplating will have, cannot be overstated. The personal challenge is immense. Immense, because the only thing preventing you from enjoying this, one of the most primal life shaping experiences, is your own mind. You must choose. To go through life able to say "yes, I did it", or to go through life knowing that you had the opportunity, but you turned it down and walked away from becoming the complete person you could have been.

BONZ is a quality retailer and e-tailer offering the very best of New Zealand leathers, knitwear and possum fur throws and accessories. BONZ products combine beauty, timeless fashion and functionality and are sought after both in New Zealand and internationally.

Established by knitwear and leather goods designer Bonnie Rodwell in 1985, the passion behind the business is to provide unique, high quality products and outstanding service in the supply of some of the world's best knitwear and leatherwear.

BONZ has grown to include stores in Australia and New Zealand and services markets internationally through its e-store. The company's flagship store is located in Queenstown, New Zealand.

BONZ is highly experienced at organising the safe delivery of its products to destinations all over the globe.

BONZ respects animal rights - its leathers are 'by-products' made from animals which have died naturally or for another purpose as opposed to animals grown or hunted for their skin. Possum (known as Eco-Fur) trims are obtained through pest control. Broadtail skin jackets are made from New Zealand lambs who have not survived the first days of life. All are natural skins.

Introduced from Australia, the Brushtail Possum has become the single greatest threat to New Zealand's native flora and fauna. The 50 million or so Possums devour tonnes of vegetation every night. In addition to competing for food, Brushtail Possums also eat or destroy the eggs and chicks of endangered native birds. The NZ Department of Conservation spends millions of dollars every year trapping or baiting the possum humanely. All fur used by BONZ has been harvested from the wild, not farmed.

The idea for BONZ came in 1986 on a chance visit to an international airport in New Zealand where an American tourist admired a stunning hand-knitted garment worn by Bonnie Rodwell. It became apparent that garments of such exceptional craftsmanship and design were not available for purchase. Yet New Zealand, a country with one of the largest concentration of sheep per capita in the world, has always utilised wool and it has been a cherished material that has allowed many skilled knitters to create wonderful designs to keep New Zealanders warm and protected in the variable weather.

After several years of wholesaling the BONZ handknits to stores both in New Zealand and Australia, the first BONZ store was opened in Sydney and many others followed. BONZ Flagship store at the Mall in Queenstown remains in its original premises, 20 years after opening!

BONZ has evolved with time and the product ranges have varied. Our handknits are still lovingly crafted by some of New Zealand's most skilled knitters with high-quality wool and alpaca, and to this day they bring in people from close and afar. The selection is complemented by stunning hand-crafted luxury leather jackets, the most exquisite selection of accessories and luxury possum throws.
